

I can't add much to the universally negative comments, but I will reinforce the idea that field repairs are impractical and unlikely to add to the quality of the amateur service, either in technical expertise or in the reliability of the hardware. I respectfully request that the petition be denied.

Patrick Tice, WA0TDA